CARRANZA MEN HOPEFUL
ON EVE OF CONFERENCE

Believe First Chief Has Strongest Claim to Recognition—Lansing Goes to New York.

Secretary of State Lansing left Washington yesterday afternoon for New York, where today he will preside at the meeting of the pan-American conference considering the Mexican question.

Secretary Lansing was accompanied by Mrs. Lansing, and it is his intention to leave New York this afternoon for Lake Ontario, where he will spend a brief vacation.

It is the expectation here, based on the statements of those associated with the deliberations of the pan-American conference, that action will be taken in New York today looking to a discussion of certain phases of the situation in Mexico between members of the conference and leaders of the factions in Mexico.

There is no intention of accepting Carranza's invitation for the United States and the six Latin-American governments to send representatives to Mexico to discuss international questions growing out of the Mexican situation. There is a disposition to move toward a conference which shall be of a more general character. It is not proposed to limit this conference to Carranza, but rather to receive representations from various factions in Mexico with a view to facilitating the establishment of a government which will receive the support of the majority of the Mexican people and the recognition of the United States and other governments.

In Carranza quarters there is great satisfaction expressed over what is regarded as the friendly disposition of the United States toward the Carranza government. The prediction was made here yesterday afternoon that at today's meeting there would be a unanimous agreement that Carranza seems to have the strongest claim to recognition. It is understood, however, that the conference will not make any direct move toward recognition of Carranza at the present moment.

According to the State Department's reports, a virtual state of anarchy exists in most of Northern Mexico. Americans are said to be leaving these districts in great numbers in accordance with the State Department's warning. It is the intention of the department to withdraw consuls from the most disturbed districts after all Americans have left.

The theft of several hundred horses from an American ranch near Mexquillo, thirty miles north of Monclova, as a result of the evacuation of that place by Villistas, was reported to the State Department yesterday. Other advice state that the Carranzistas have captured Monclova and now control that district.

The Villa agency last night issued a lengthy statement, reviewing the case of Villa against Carranza, with reference to his proposal that the pan-American conference meet in Mexico. The Mexican border to discuss international questions relating to Mexico. The Villistas charge that his invitation was merely an effort by Carranza to bring the impression that he was recognized as the responsible authority in Mexico.

August Belmont, the big banker, is treasurer of the committee of mercy engaged in relief work for the Serbians. The other day he received 45 cents from a little girl in New Orleans who was too shy to give her name. She is, she says, "six and a half going on seven," and has reached that critical period where some of her teeth are either going out or coming in.

Whenever she loses a little molar, the bunny leaves 15 cents under her pillow, and the other day she lost three. True to his promise "the bunny" left 45 cents under her pillow.

Instead of rushing to the candy shop for the soda fountain she put the money in an envelope to help the Serbians. It is one of the childish acts that stand out with pathetic brightness against the great and sullen background of the war.

E. F. Bitner, the music publisher, believes that the constitutional convention held some subtle motive in boosting the salary of the governor of New York to $20,000 a year. He believes it was done with the vain hope that it will keep some of our youth from aiming to be movie picture actors.

Snappiest paragraph of the week from the Evening Mail: "One tires of the pastimes of one's youth. You may have observed that Mr. Thaw didn't murder the co-respondent."

Sam Wellman, of Cincinnati, was walking over Fifty-ninth street the other afternoon and passed a riding academy. He heard a stableman shout: "Put an English saddle on Kaiser Wilhelm and take him over to the Plaza at 5 o'clock for Monsieur Gaston de Chamberlayne."

Wellman scurried up a side street in case any shots were fired.

For the first time in years the month of July has passed without a murder in Manhattan.

Celebration at the McAlpin.
In celebration of the anniversary of the independence of Costa Rica, which was achieved September 15, 1821, a number of prominent citizens of that state arranged a dinner in celebration of the event. They engaged the blue bird room of the Hotel McAlpin roof, and invited their friends to attend. Special Spanish dishes were ordered, of which Arroz con Pollo and roast suckling pig were the chief delicacies.

The Costa Rican Minister to Washington, Castro Quesada, was the guest of honor. Others of prominence who were present were Mr. J. J. Thome, Mr. V. de la Guardia, Mr. A. Mateo, Mr. E. Montenegro, Mr. Francisco Lorente, Mrs. Smith Quesada, a cousin of Minister Quesada, Mrs. Dora Blanquena, Mrs. Xosar, Mr. G. de la Guardia and Mr. Crane, the professional dancers of the blue bird room, executed two special Spanish numbers, which were encored again and again by the Costa Ricans.

District Courts

Alleging he was compelled to leave his wife, Della, John F. Fiddell yesterday applied to the District Supreme Court for an absolute divorce. The husband names two co-respondents and says one should be made pay costs of the suit. Attorney John I. Sacks appears for the husband.

The right of the District attorney to seize and hold records of a corporation whose officers have been accused of a violation of the law was argued before Justice McCoy yesterday. The Justice probably will render a decision in a few days. The case involves two officers of the Marks-Goldsmith Music Company, who are charged with using the mails to defraud.

The Secretary of the Agriculture has received a letter from Frank W. Sampson informing him that his father, Rev. Thornton R. Sampson, has been lost in Estes National Park, Col., for thirteen days and requesting President Wilson, Attorney General Gregory and Postmaster General Burleson be notified.

Forest Service officials were instructed to enlist the services of the twenty-two rangers, but all efforts have so far proved futile.

Holland Buys Twenty Aeroplanes.

A resolution favoring the closing of barber shops on Sunday was adopted. The resolution provided that barbers are working seven days a week. A report was read from the press committee praising the manner in which newspapers of Washington have reported the convention. Retiring Secretary John R. Neal was voted an expression of thanks.

The convention went on record as favoring a minimum wage of $2 per day at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, authorized the executive board to prepare a bill for presentation to Congress to this effect, and to wait on the Director of the Bureau and ask him to request legislation covering the increase in salary. Some employees of the Bureau receive $1.75 a day.

The moonlight outing on the big steamer last night was well attended, and those who made the trip down the river had a most enjoyable time and came home cool and refreshed.
